South Korean Troops Fight Communist Defense Forces As They Blaze Trail for Expected Big Push Into Enemy's Homeland.

By Howard Handelman
(Far Eastern Director, I. N. S.)
TOKYO, Oct. 5—(INS)—Superfort bombers blasted a North Korean rail center 65 miles from the Soviet Siberian border today as thousands of Allied troops massed below the 38th Parallel for an all-out drive across that line.

Blazing the trail for the expected big push into the enemy's homeland, South Korean troops fought Communist defense forces 67 miles inside North Korea on the east coast 43 miles below the major port of Wonsan.

An enemy battalion and a Red marine company halted South Korean Third Division spearheads in a furious battle which began at noon Thursday three miles above Changjin, International News Correspondent Lee Ferrero reported.

A threat to the ROK—Republic of Korea—Third Division's deep flank was revealed in a dispatch from the front which said a concentrated force of 1,000 Reds was fighting South Korean Capitol Division troops just west of Hwang-pori. The latter North Korean town is 35 miles below Changjin.

More than 100 miles to the southwest, a U. S. First Marine Division armored column plunged through Munsan, 22 miles above Seoul, seven miles south of the 38th Parallel on the main railway to the Red capital of Pyongyang.

Other United Nations forces in South Korea eliminated an additional 5,698 trapped North Korean troops in a mopping up campaign which has declared officially to have rendered the Red invasion remnants "completely ineffective."

Gen. Douglas MacArthur's briefing officer announced in Tokyo late Thursday that a force of B-29 Superforts smashed the marshalling yards at Naman, 65 miles southwest of the narrow Siberian-North Korean frontier.

The spokesman said the devastating raid was carried out after Superfort reconnaissance flights had disclosed a marked increase of train movements in that northeast corner of Korea.

Naman is a major coastal junction on a railroad leading north via southeast Manchuria to Russia's Khabarovsk, some 150 miles away.

Approve Budget For Girl Scout Fund Drive

The $18,000 budget and goal for the 1951 Fund Drive was approved by members of Bucks County Council of Girl Scouts at a meeting held in Doylestown. The itemized budget based on actual 1949 and 1950 expenditures was presented and accepted by Leaders, troop committee members and board members present.

William A. Rawak, chairman of the fund drive, spoke to the group and urged their co-operation in putting the drive over the top in their own communities.

New officers and board members were elected at the meeting from a slate submitted by Mrs. Fred F. Martin, of Doylestown, as follows:

Mrs. Hillborn Dean, New Hope, president; Mrs. Matthew Suydam, Doylestown, vice-president; Mrs. Edwin H. Satterthwaite, Doylestown, secretary; Mrs. Edward G. Appreciation to Mrs. R. H. Rufe, retiring president, for her interest and untiring effort in setting up the organization of the Council was expressed by Mrs. Hillborn Dean, the newly-elected president.

There was a discussion of the new alternate uniform and the group decided to allow the junior high groups to wear it with the beret worn with the intermediate uniform as suggested as a possibility by the national organization.

The program for the evening was in charge of Mrs. Matthew Suydam and included a very interesting talk by Mrs. Howard Kritzer, Eureka on her experiences and those of Mrs. George Drotar, Newtown, at Macy Training School, Pleasantville, New York, this summer.

The films, "The Story of a Brownie Scout Troop" and "The Story of an Intermediate Troop," were shown to the group by Mr. William Mason of Doylestown.

Edward Hickey, 258 McKinley street, was taken to Abington hospital for observation yesterday, in the ambulance of Bucks Co. Rescue Squad. Walter Dilmore was taken from Abington hospital to the Robinson nursing home, Edgington.

WORLD NEWS IN BRIEF

An eight-nation resolution on Korea embodying tacit permission for General MacArthur to carry the fighting beyond the Thirty-eighth Parallel was approved, 47 to 5, by the United Nations General Assembly's Political Committee. A Soviet counter-proposal was beaten, 46 to 5, and an Indian compromise lost, 32 to 24. A Soviet move to condemn American bombings during the war lost.

Secretary Acheson, saying he did not believe the Chinese Communists would intervene in Korea, suggested that any United Nations commission to study the Formosa problem should be free to visit that island and Peiping.

Two other Asiatic areas reported trouble. Pakistan said an Afghan invasion resulting from the dispute over Pushtunistan had been repelled. The Netherlands protested Indonesia's military action against the autonomy move in Ambona.

Turkey agreed to join the North Atlantic nations as consultant on Mediterranean defense; Greece has not yet answered a similar invitation.

SPEAKER IS GARBED IN INDIAN COSTUME

Miss Margaret Bugby Displays Indian Grain 'Mill,' Oil Lamp, Etcetera

WSCS DIST. SESSION

LANGHORNE, Oct. 5 — Garbed in a colorful Indian costume, Miss Margaret Bugby, a former missionary to India, appeared before members of the various units of the Woman's Society of Christian Service for the North District, Philadelphia Conference, monthly sessions, here, Tuesday afternoon.

Miss Bugby was the speaker at the afternoon meeting, the final one of two arranged for the day in Langhorne Methodist Church. On the chancel she had spread pictures which portrayed life in India; and among the items displayed as she spoke was a "wedding ring" from that land—a cord measuring nearly 12 inches long, which fastened at the ears. This was attractively ornamented. Other items shown were: small "mill" for grinding of grain; an Indian oil lamp; bracelet of beads, etc. The costume worn by the speaker was made by girls in one of the schools in the east.

Incidents concerning Indian children, home life, the work of the people, Christian activity, etc., were capably presented in a most interesting manner.

The presiding officer was Mrs. Burley, of Philadelphia. Devotional period during the morning was in charge of the Rev. Horace H. Hoffman, pastor of the hostess church; and during the afternoon Mrs. Albert Brooks, spiritual life secretary of the North District, conducted the devotional period. Vocal solo were provided by Mrs. John Roth, accompanied by organist, Miss Shirley Heimann.

During the morning a workers' conference and a business meeting were held. The 75 present during the first meeting was increased to approximately 100 for the afternoon session.

At noon, while members partook of box lunches, in the social hall, the Langhorne W.S.C.S., the hostess group, served beverages, ice cream and cookies. The local fellowship committee, headed by Mrs. Amos Stradling, was in charge of this feature.

EISENHOWER DEFENDS CONCEPT OF FREEDOM

Newly-Invested President of Penna. State College, Calls for Strong U. S.

DISTINGUISHED GROUP

STATE COLLEGE, Oct. 5 — The Pennsylvania State College's newly-invested president, Milton S. Eisenhower, defended the American concept of freedom and called for a strong United States in his inaugural address today before a distinguished audience, including his brother, General Dwight D. Eisenhower, and 59 other college presidents. More than 200 institutions were represented.

"Such inequalities of opportunity and such injustices as now exist in our democracy," Penn State's 11th president declared, "can be eliminated without reducing every individual to the level of mediocrity, and without injuring any element of total society."

Continuing, the 51-year-old Kansan, formerly president of Kansas State College, said:

"We can, with a rising level of education and understanding, continue to strengthen our economic system which, instead of meriting criticism or apology, should be proudly proclaimed, for it has brought incalculable benefits not only to us, but literally and generously to peoples everywhere. Indeed, were it not for our economic strength at this moment, freedom would quickly be absorbed by statism all over the Earth, as water is absorbed by a sponge."

President Eisenhower, who was inducted by Judge James Milholand, of Pittsburgh, president of the board of trustees, explained that the greatest guarantee of peace and freedom in the world today is a strong United States—strong economically, socially, morally, and militarily.

In calling for greatly expanded efforts to supplant mutual ignorance

12-Year-Old Boy Injured In Fall From Bicycle

Twelve-year-old Edward Hickey is in Abington Hospital today where doctors say he may have suffered an injured spleen in a bicycle accident two days ago.

Edward, who lives at 258 McKinley street, was taken to Abington last night by the Bucks County Rescue Squad after an examination by Dr. H. Doyle Webb showed that the boy may have been more seriously injured than first indicated.

Edward was knocked unconscious when he fell from his bicycle on Cedar street Tuesday while riding home from school. He suffered a head injury, a contusion of the left shoulder, and a severe concussion of the abdominal region.

Doctors at Abington X-rayed the boy last night. They say Edward may have internal injuries, possibly an injury to the spleen. He will remain in the hospital for observation for several days.

Edward, who will be 13 tomorrow, is in the seventh grade at St. Mark's Parochial School.

BRISTOL PALOMINO OUTSTANDING AT FAIR

Value of Exhibits at Middletown Grange Fair Estimated at $302,551

CORN SOLD IN FIELD

(By Staff Reporter)

NEWTOWN, Oct. 5—The second and concluding day of the Middletown Grange 1950 country fair ended yesterday with announcement of winners in three more cattle types; the serving of 600 at a roast beef dinner; the sale of the corn crop (a grange project) standing in the field; and the announcement that exhibits at the fair were estimated in value at $302,551.

Although the crowd was somewhat smaller than on the opening day, due to cooler weather, there was nevertheless a big attendance for the final day of the third annual such event at Heston Manor Farm, Lindenhurst road.

Late last night the 50 or more exhibitors began packing their equipment and goods, after the crowd had had its fill of dinner or refreshments, had enjoyed square dancing, and explored the various tents and exhibit squares.

The sale of corn took place late in the afternoon. The five half-acre strips were sold in the field, as the corn was not sufficiently ripe to be harvested. Successful bidder was John Thompson, of Newtown. This being a Grange project, the returns from the sale will be added to the Grange treasury. Potatoes from the Grange project are still being dug, and an announcement is expected in about 10 days as to the yield. These potatoes were sold by the bag and basket during the fair.

It was estimated that 1100 were attracted to the fair on the first day, Tuesday.

Although no awards were made, those in charge of the general show of riding horses (workmanship) listed as most "outstanding" the palomino of John Manera, of Circle M Ranch, Bristol. The two-year-old animal, valued by Manera at $1700, is said to be able to do 46 "tricks."

It has appeared on radio and television shows. As the fair-goers stood by, the palomino went through some of its outstanding tricks—said prayers, bowed, laid down for "dead," sat up like a dog, covered itself with a sheet, walked as if its

ONE MAN'S OPINION

By Walter Kiernan

Sawyer waited so long to name his first-game starting pitcher, Moscow cabled the Voice of America "how about your iron curtain in Philadelphia?"

But we have named Eddie Sawyer "the man most likely" and will complete the sentence before midnight, October 7.

The only seat I could get today was so far from home plate you could feel the ocean spray on the salt water taffy . . . that brought me back to New York quicker than a vanished policeman.

When I pay $40 for a seat on the boardwalk I expect Miss America to pitch . . . a full nine innings and overtime.

For the remainder of the series I am sharing a 10 inch television set with nine other men . . . my inch is in left field and cloudy.

We miss some of the thrills of personal attendance but our set has double images and who else can see two complete games at one time?

Bye now . . . Faye Emerson is coming in to pitch or we've got the wrong channel.

WEEKS ON WEEKS

The law of diminishing returns set in long ago on the naming of "weeks." This month the populace has undergone National Tie Week, National Home Week, Lessons in Truth Week, National Dog Week, Religious Education Week, National Sweater Week and—for good measure—this is Child Foot Health Month. There were probably others that escaped attention. Surely the value of such "weeks" is infinitesimal.

Slated for October are "weeks" for hats, cranberries, wine, better parenthood, fire prevention, posture, letter writing, the Bible, smoke abatement, honey, business women, pharmacy, apples, Girl Scouts, flowers, horses, and the more or less United Nations. For good measure the month will include Grandmother's Day, World Temperance Sunday, Children's Day, and Apple Day.

Anybody who tried to observe these "weeks" properly would have little time to do anything else. A conscientious observer of "weeks" would be slightly tired
by the time he had worn a hat, picked a flower and a horse, woke up on World Temperance Sunday without a hangover, eaten cranberry jelly, honey, and an apple, prevented a fire and abated the smoke, been kind to children, grandmothers, Girl Scouts, better parents and business women, given proper thought to the UN, and encouraged somebody else to have good posture.

By this time no individual would be up to the effort necessary to observe Golden Rule Week properly, and Prosperity Week would arouse no more than a faint flicker of interest.

Is there a high authority that decides about weeks? The situation seems to be in a state of absolute freedom—i. e., anarchy. An acquaintance reports hearing a voice on the radio proclaiming, at intervals weeks apart, that this was National Wheaties Week.
That logically moves one to suggest that there is one week that really should be observed—the Seven-Day Week.

DEFENSE PROGRESS

The North Atlantic Council took its time about giving its approval to American proposals for new and far reaching military understandings in behalf of European security. The decision, however, has now been taken.

The council agreed upon the establishment at the earliest possible date of an integrated force under centralized command, which shall be deemed adequate to deter aggression and to insure the defense of Western Europe.
Furthermore, this force will be under a supreme commander who will have sufficient delegated authority to insure that national units allocated to his command are organized and trained into an effective, integrated force in time of peace as well as in the event of war.

The Council has also decided to enlist German manpower in the common cause. Just how that is to be done remains a question.
But it will be done.

Country Fair Notes

Five Middletown Grange he-males were taking "time-out" by the cattle tent when they heard a duet plea over the amplifying system for "a man." Ready to start down one of the broad aisles, all five stopped in their tracks when there was added "to help with the ice cream." Mrs. Bjarni Bjarnason caused many a smile with her snappy calls for assistance, and announcements. One was "The of at 7.75—well, the time they said it would be sold."

as well as preach fire prevention and serve as "smoke-eaters." They were among the hundreds who enjoyed the fair dinners.

The fair proved capable of seeing a person "through life." There were "hot-water" bottles and cereal bowls for the babies; toys for the kiddies to play with; utensils and appliances to make house-work lighter and more pleasant; farming equipment for the men; electric saws to provide wood for the whole family to keep warm; feed and fertilizers to aid in better food production and the electric refrigerators in which to preserve food;
and as a "cover-all" insurance policies of all types. Finally there were tombstones on which to record the date of death.

It was the choice of "heads" at 10 cents each for buyers of cabbage at the produce booth presided over by Herman Heston, Sr., yesterday. Most of the cabbages "weighed in" at 10 pounds or more.
Today there's many a pot in Bucks County kitchens filled with "ham and".

4-H Clubbers were an eager bunch on both fair days, as they quickly searched for names on the "blue ribbon" items in the Bucks County 4-H display. Quick to spot names of their pals they would call out to each other as each success was noted.

Walker Jackson really faced temptation, surrounded by shoo-fly pies, apricot upside-down cake, angel food, cinnamon buns and the like in the produce tent. His story is that he "watched the crowd."

There were many "guesses" by the hundreds of fair attendants during the past two days—how many eggs a "trapped" hen had laid from Oct., 1948, to October, 1950; how many beans in a jar;
in addition to registration for many ground prizes—fire extinguishers, rain-coats, grass seed, and so on ad infinitum.

There were many stretched necks at the end of a T-V show in one tent yesterday. The attraction? You've guessed it! The World Series game. Those in the back rows had to take the word of those who could actually see the "screen."

NEWS OF SCHOOLS IN AREA - - -

Bristol Township Elementary School

The children of Edgely Primary School have, for the past week, been enjoying two beautiful new slides which were installed over the week-end by Joseph Haines. At the beginning of the school year Mr. Haines cemented the Jungle Jim in place. This playground equipment, which was purchased by the E.B.T.P.T.A., has given the children a new experience both in the classroom and outdoors.

Group discussions were held and a set of safety rules were made by the children. In the second grade stories were written. The first grades made reading charts and drew large pictures illustrating their stories. The teachers have found this equipment an excellent opportunity to stress citizenship and fair play and the children are obeying the rules which they set up.

Some of the classes at the Edgely Primary School have taken field trips with the children observing changes in plant life in the area surrounding the school. The interest of the children has provided a good educational background for such studies as science, reading activities, safety, and art.

Mrs. Dorothy A. McCollom, Elementary Supervisor of the Township Schools, attended an all day meeting of County Supervisors at the Doylestown office of Public Instruction.

Individual pictures were taken in each classroom throughout the district this past week.

Miss Evelyn Teaf, 1st grade teacher in Maple Shade School, is taking further work in professional courses in Temple University this fall.

The Laurel Bend PTA Fair was very successful. Honors were won by individuals in rooms from all three schools. In Miss Johnson's room, Carol Ruland won first prize for floral arrangement; Barbara Deas won second. "Hobby" recognition was given to Carol Ruland for a butterfly cut from cloth with sequins sewed on it. Poster prizes were awarded to: 1st prize—Raymond Mitchell; 2nd prize—James DeLong; 3rd prize—Virginia Wian.

Kenneth Hauser won first prize for floral arrangement in Mrs. Seech's room.

First prize for novelty was given to Carolee May Murray in Miss Hogarty's room. Poster winners were: 1st prize—Mary Wiltz; 2nd prize—Billie Joyce Lewis.

Poster winners in Mrs. Zarr's room were: 1st prize—Noreen Hunter; 2nd prize—Carol Ann Muller; 3rd prize—Babe Wrubleski. Hobby awards were Bob Hulick, 1st prize; Roberta Patterson, 2nd prize; the whole room won third prize recognition for their display of a praying mantis.

In Mrs. Glassmire's first grade Betty Lou Entrinkin won first prize for the poster contest. Joe McLean was second prize winner and Sandy Caldwell was third prize winner. In the flower arrangement contest the three winners were Michael Tannenbaum, 1st prize; Marie Mitchell, 2nd prize; Blondie Mitchell, 3rd prize. The "hobby" winners were: Joseph King, 1st prize; the whole class won 2nd and 3rd prizes for their praying mantis exhibit.

The County Office of Education has loaned numerous sight-saving books to the district for the school year. These books have the same content as class text but are printed on special paper with enlarged print. Children who have sight difficulty will be using these books during the year.

WASHINGTON — (INS) — The Agriculture Department estimates the 1950 cotton crop will be only 10,208,000 bales—about 11 per cent below the 1929 to 1948 average. Bad weather and heavy insect damage are largely responsible for the short harvests.

Brotherhood Plans Fellowship Supper

of untiring service was extended to Mr. Ettenger.

Following this meeting, the regular meeting of the board of trustees was held, at which time the budget was adopted.

Burton Benner was appointed to head the every-member canvass, which will take place early in November.

Fashions of Past 50 Years To Be A Luncheon Feature

A luncheon will mark the opening of The Travel Club season tomorrow afternoon, when at one o'clock members assemble in the club home. Officers of the club will be in the receiving line to welcome members at the start of 1950-51 season.

"Style Smiles" will be the title of the program. This will be an amusing half hour of memories brought back by the contents of an old trunk. In this manner some of the extreme fashions and foolish fads of the past half century will be recalled.

Mrs. Charles I. Bowen will present a program of music, appropriate to the occasion.

THE WINNING RUN FOR THE YANKEES

Crossing home plate, Bobby Brown, of the New York Yankees, scores the first and only run of the game during the opener of the 1950 World Series against the Phillies at Shibe Park, Philadelphia. Brown, leading off with a double, went to third on Bauer's long drive to center and came home on Coleman's left to deep left. Andy Seminick is the catcher and Conlon the umpire. fans at Shibe Park, was hardly a rout. But the 1-0 score was, as Yankee Manager Casey Stengel observed, quite sufficient.

It put the Phils one down in the best-four-of-seven series deal, and today the New York foe was a machine-like 6-to-1 favorite to win its 13th Series in the 17 it has played.

It may be that the Phillies, who couldn't hit Raschi's stuff yesterday, won't even see Reynolds' blazers today. The solid right-hander, winner of 16 games in the season, is capable of high accomplishment. Evidence enough is the 1-to-0, two-hit shutout he presented to the Dodgers in the World Series opener a year ago, a performance which served as a striking model for Raschi yesterday.

Big Vic was a vivid man to watch. Seven Phillies had batted before one of them got a ball out of the infield. Thirteen had batted before one of them got a hit. And, nursing that 1 to 0 lead like a cradled child, Raschi retired the last 11 men to face him.

It is correct, but not too significant, to note that the one run the Yanks did get off Konstanty was sort of an insipid thing, compounded of a dribbled base-line double to the wrong field by Bobby Brown and a pair of outfield flies in the Yankee fourth.

On other occasions, Konstanty pitched his way out of far more unnerving situations. He had two baserunners with nobody out in the first and third, and with one out in the sixth. Twice, with one out, he had enemy fellows on third base.

But that evil changeup that Konstanty throws was equal to his problems. He got the Yanks to pop up to the infield seven times, five of the pop-outs coming when men were on base. And, know who the seven batters were? Berra, once, and Rizzuto, DiMaggio and Mize, twice each.

In the eight innings he worked—Russ Meyer did the ninth after Dick Whitman had pinch-hit a mile-long drive into Hank Bauer's hand at the right field wall—Konstanty yielded only four hits.

Trouble was, he was the second best pitcher on the field.

Raschi, who struck out five to none for Konstanty, had himself only three baserunners—Willie Jones and Andy Seminick, who singled in the Philly 5th, and Eddie Waitkus, who walked in the sixth.

With one out in the fifth, Jones put a ground single over second base. Granny Hamner flier out, but Seminick delivered a real hard hit, lining a single to left, to put men on first and second.

Up came Mike (The Miner) Goliat. He is still, no doubt, trying to see what it was he swung at and missed. Raschi poured it past him for a money strikeout.

Stengel, by the way, already has announced his third-game pitcher for tomorrow, when the Series moves into New York's Yankee Stadium. It will be Eddie Lopat. Today, perhaps, Of Case will announce his starting pitcher for the 1951 Series.

Phillies Need Only
Couple of Runs

we've been weak at the plate. Nobody's been really hot.

But all of us feel that we've got to break loose and score a bunch of runs. When this happens, I'm sure it will give us the lift to carry us through to victory in the series.

Of course, now we've got those first game jitters out of the way. I think after we batted around against Vic Raschi yesterday we settled down as though it were just another ball game.

But Raschi really had us with that rising fast ball of his. It made us so ineffective against him because we've never seen anything like it.

Howie Pollet is the only one in our league who serves up anything resembling it, but he's a left-hander.

But that riser of Raschi's was even more deceptive. It looked like it was coming in about waist high, but by the time your bat was half-way around, the ball was up around the shoulders.

He wasn't nearly as effective with his curve, but he paced himself very well.

Jim Konstanty did a whale of a job in the opener even though we lost. He had those power hitters in the palm of his hand.

You really can't compare the teams too well on the basis of that game. It was one of those games where two guys who "had it" went out there on the hill and handcuffed the opposition. It was the kind of a game when you wonder what happened to the rabbit ball.

It looked to me like the teams were pretty evenly balanced. Even though they scored the only run, I'd say the pitching was about even. Jim gave up four hits, while Raschi gave up two. That one charged to Russ Meyer in the ninth was a fluke that hit a stone.

And as far as the hitting went, it looked to me like we hit the longer balls. Granny Hamner and Mike Goliat both tagged pitches that were labeled for extra bases—only to have them caught for long outs.

We're neither over, or underconfident. But I think we can take this series as soon as we start hitting, and we will.

SPARE THE WEEDS

LANSING, Mich.—(INS)—Michigan State college's farm crops department says it may do more harm than good to pull large weeds out of a crop like beans or soybeans. It explains that weeds pulled from the row will loosen the dirt around the plant.

The Commission is taking under advisement the street lighting on the bridge approaches at South Delmor avenue, Washington street and South Pennsylvania avenue. Reimbursement to the borough for abandoned water mains necessitated by the approaches was declined by the Commission along with reimbursing the borough for street paving on the streets the Commission blocks.

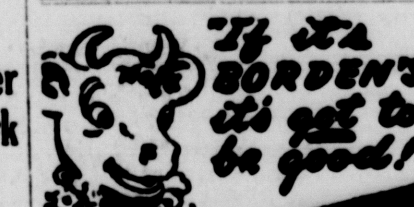

All shade trees along the streets that are taken by the Commission will be replaced by trees in other areas of the approach, it was announced.

FALL EXHIBITION OF PAINTINGS SCHEDULED

Art Show at New Hope Had its Beginning at Turn of Century

PROMINENT ARTISTS

NEW HOPE, Oct. 5 — An art show that had its beginning at the turn of the century will present its 1950 fall exhibition at the Phillips Mill near New Hope beginning Saturday and continuing until Sunday, Nov. 5.

The annual showing began nearly 50 years ago when artists who lived in the vicinity presented a yearly exhibit of their works. Other artists, drawn by the beauty of the Delaware valley, were attracted to the region until the area became known as an artists' colony. Since the first exhibition, thousands of visitors have come to see the products of these artists.

This year's show will have works by several widely-known artists whose paintings have appeared at previous exhibitions. These include Daniel Garber, John Folsom, George Sotter, M. Elizabeth Price, Walter Baum, William Taylor, R. A. D. Miller, and others.

Other members of the artists' colony whose works have achieved recognition are Charles Ward, Ranulph Bye, John Sharp, Alden Wicks, Paul Crosthwaite, Paul Darrow, Charles Coiner, and Sigmund Kozlow.

Altogether, 103 paintings and 12 pieces of sculpture have been entered in the show by 103 artists.

Ranulph Bye is chairman of the committee which will judge the oils, watercolors, and sculpture entered. Others on the committee are Virginia Clarke, Walter Baum, Paul Darrow and Charles Ward.

The exhibition will be open daily from 1 to 6 and on Sunday from 12 to 6.

Housework Easy Without Nagging Backache

As we get older, stress and strain, over-exertion, excessive smoking or exposure to cold sometimes slows down kidney function. This may lead many folks to complain of nagging backache, loss of pep and energy, headaches and dizziness. Getting up nights or frequent passages may result from minor bladder irritations due to cold, dampness or dietary indiscretions.

If your discomforts are due to these causes, don't wait, try Doan's Pills, a mild diuretic. Used successfully by millions for over 50 years. While these symptoms may often otherwise occur, it's amazing how many times Doan's give happy relief — help the 15 miles of kidney tubes and filters flush out waste. Get Doan's Pills today!

NAME MORRISVILLE CAPTAIN TO POST

Joseph P. Kutger is Officer
General of Supply
Squadron

ONCE CHEATED DEATH

MORRISVILLE, Oct. 5 — An air force captain who miraculously escaped death during World War II has been named supply office general of the maintenance and supply squadron of the 52nd fighter all-weather wing at McGuire Air Base, Wrightstown, N. J.

He is Capt. Joseph P. Kutger, son of Mr. Joseph A. Kutger, Oak Lane, Morrisville. Capt. Kutger was recently stationed at Barksdale Air Force base, Louisiana, before being transferred to his new post.

During World War II, Capt. Kutger was a navigator aboard a B-24 attached to the 465th Bomber Group, 15th Air Force. His plane was hit by anti-aircraft fire on Nov.

20, 1944, while on a raid over Blechhammer, Germany.

The direct hit set fire to the high octane gas tanks which burned off one of the wings and spread toward the plane, which was still loaded with high explosive bombs.

Capt. Kutger was not wearing a parachute at the time, but he seized one and jumped from the doomed plane.

While spinning and twisting to earth, he managed to attach the parachute to his harness, and pulled the ripcord and came safely to earth. Seven other men aboard the plane were killed.

Capt. Kutger was awarded the Distinguished Unit citation, the Purple Heart, the Commendation Ribbon, and the Air Medal.

He enlisted in the air corps at Fort Totten, N. Y., on July 1, 1935, and was commissioned a second lieutenant at Mitchell Field, N. Y., on June 21, 1941.
